

Hi everyone, my name is Astro. I am hoping you can help me out, see I haven't had it easy so far in life. On June 3rd, I woke up at my home since I was a puppy and mom asked me to take a car ride, we go to this loud scary place and mom leaves me with nothing and never comes back. I learn that I was dumped as a stray and was on death row at the Franklin County Animal Shelter in Columbus, OH. On the afternoon I was to die my foster mom, through the commitment of a rescue, saved my life.

I know everyone likes the little "pocket" dogs right now, but they can't keep you warm in the winter or provide you with the same level of fun that my 70 pounds can. I will listen and know a few commands (except not chasing those pesky cats)...and oh, did I tell you that I can sing and dance? My foster mom says I'm a great singer, especially when I greet her after a long hard day at work, I make her laugh and smile every afternoon.

Can you find it in your heart to give me a permanent home? My foster sister has been a bully since I got there and harasses me, but I won't fight her. I just want peace, quiet and love in my life. I'm a healthy, neutered six year old who is up-to-date on shots and have many good years to give you all the love and kisses that you could ever want

I need more time to run free and play as right now I'm required to stay in a crate or in a room by myself nearly 22 hours a day because of my foster sister. When I get the chance I love to run in yard or play ball, but sometimes just prefer to lay in the shade with my foster mom petting me. For your protection I do a good job of guarding the fence; mostly I'm just interested in sniffing, playing ball or leaning against someone's leg while they pet me. Just like with the fence, I do like to keep you safe inside and need a special introduction to strangers as I can seem scary at first, but once I learn they are not going to hurt anyone I love, I will love them as well. All it takes is a few treats and you telling me that they are your friend. I will be the first to admit that could greatly benefit from training and a local trainer said that I would do so much better with just a few classes.

Could you see yourself giving me the love and attention that I need? I need lots of attention and don't want to take any away from children or other pets so I would prefer to live where I can be the center of attention and you can be the center of mine. I'm packed and ready to go, can't you please open your heart and home to me? If you do I promise to love you forever. For more information contact my foster mom at 513-284-1140, she has more cute pictures as well. She will require references, a home check and vet reference check for you to adopt me.
