

BJ

UPDATE Oct: BJ (aka BlackJack) a small shep/lab mix (around 50lbs). He has completed his treatment for heartworm and is now in his "30 day recovery" period which requires he have small intermittent amount of exercise (walking only) while he heals. He will be neutered in late November (after his 30 day recovery). He is current on vaccines, flea and tick free. This boy - sadly - spent the majority of his life on a chain outside so he is slowly and cautiously becoming acclimated to life indoors. He is house trained and crate trained. BJ's demeanor is very timid, cautious, and shy around strangers, and we find BJ is not very food motivated but there are some "special ingredients" we add to entice his eating ;-)

He is currently in boarding (at a vet office) and would DO BETTER in a home environment with a FOSTER to help him through his recovery and rehabilitation. We are looking for a FOSTER family to help him become acclimated and comfortable with a real home & family environment. BJ must be with adults only (no small children), and should be an only dog currently (as he seems to guard his human when other dogs are in the house). A fenced yard is a must for this boy. IF YOU are able to foster or adopt this special boy, please send us an application located on the FOSTER and ADOPTME page at Dream4pets.org
