

Loki

Introducing LOKIThis young boy almost 9 months young, about 40lbs, is fully vetted (neutered and vaccinated), and hw negative. We believe LOKI is best described as a Snuggle buddy or lap boy, Sweet, Silly, Playful, Loving, and Happy Go Lucky boy :-)

LOKI is house trained and crate trained (he will initially object with a few barks or an alligator roll to tell you he prefers to be with you....but does fine once inside the crate).

He is a SMART boy and loves the attention, treats & rewards from his training.

Foster family stated he will respond to: Sit, Lay down.... They are working on Wait/Stay

LOKI is learning to walk on leash; the shorter the leash the better for now.

At his foster home, he doesn't show any signs of prey drive and does very little barking.

LOKI is not a door dasher because COMPANIONSHIP: Human or canine is his priority and love in life; he loves to interact and stay with both. He is still learning to manage his "puppy behavior" as he gets very excited when released from his crate. Ignoring him is the best practice till he settles; then always reward his calm demeanor. It's that love for companionship that excites him everytime ;-) and playing w/TOYS (no stuffed ones) is a favorite activity too !

LOKI is very well socialized; however, like many young dogs HE can be a little annoying with his energy (playfulness) so exercise or playtime is crucial for this young boy. He has no fear or aggression with other dogs (his foster home has dogs larger than him, male and female).... Seems to prefer females (maybe it reminds him of his mother). LOKI does take correction from other dogs and humans very well.
